

GIRL TO CROSS U. S. ON HORSEBACK ON $25,000 BET

Girl Out to Win $25,000 ~ On Horseback Bet ~ The Puzzling Twins

HUB ARRIVAL
Miss Vaneil Viking was one of the passengers coming in today on the Republic. The Marquis of Donegal wagered she could not cross the U. S. on horseback and she accepted the bet.

Virginia and Katherine McCune, Missouri college girls, back from three months' broad. The twin sisters kept the passengers on the Republic guessing and had a lot of fun doing it.

ARRIVES IN HUB EAGER FOR RIDE

Accepts Wager of Marquis of Donegal and Returns on Republic, Bound to Win

Girls of today—that is, all girls—are not jazz mad, "cigarette-smoking dolls of no practical use to society," and blonde Vaneil Viking, vivacious New Mexico girl, intends to prove it.

If she does prove it—by riding horseback from New York to Los Angeles, she will win a bet of $25,000 from the Marquis of Donegal, made at a London banquet when the Marquis was particularly petulant about modern girls.

Arriving today in Boston on the United States liner Republic, whose four-day battle with fog and adverse winds cut down her progress to 100 miles in the last two days, Miss Viking, who has been in the movies abroad, announced her intent to uphold the hardness of her modern sisters by crossing the continent on horseback.

MARQUIS STRAKES $25,000.

Miss Viking said: "The Marquis referred to girls of 'day as jazz mad, cigarette smoking dolls and said we were of no practical use to society. He said we lacked the endurance possessed by girls and women of former generations."

"Naturally, objections arose and my friends boasted that I could do the stunt that I mean to accomplish. He offered $25,000 for any girl that could do it. So I said I would do it."

Miss Viking said the marquis made the offer at the banquet given in honor of Reginald Denny. The girl trained during the trip over under the direction of the ship's gym instructor.

STARTS THIS MONTH.

The start will be made the latter part of September and is expected to be accomplished within three months, according to Miss Viking, though the conditions allow four months for the trip.

Among the 343 passengers disembarking here were Hon. Albert S. Burleson, Postmaster General, with Mrs. Burleson and Miss Alice S. Burleson, Miss Burleson attended the baths at Carlsbad for her health. The party enlivened for Euter, N. H., to visit Albert S. Bradley and William Negley, grandsons of the ex-postmaster, who are attending the academy this fall.

THE PUZZLING TWINS.

The Misses Katherine and Virginia McCune, 18-year-old twins, proved a puzzle to other passengers during the trip with their close similarity in appearance and common motto. They traveled through the European countries with their mother, Mrs. Mary L. McCune.

Among the Bostonians returning were Dr. and Mrs. James H. Townsend of Jay State road; the Misses Mary and Abigail Coffey of Dedham; Mrs. Effie Forbes and Miss Barbara Forbes of Brookline; Miss Elsie Wagner of Ashburton; Dr. Howard Hamilton of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. James E. Thomas of Brookline; and Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes of Lynn.

Oldest Clergyman, 103, Won't Race Rival, 95

The Rev. Edwin Stuart Best, America's oldest living clergyman, who will be 103 tomorrow, declined to run a footrace in the garden of his Malden home today when he was challenged by the Rev. Walter Ayers of Danvers, 95, and the oldest living graduate of Boston University Theological School.

"It's the right sort of a day, and although I came to congratulate you, I'm ready to race you," declared the Rev. Mr. Ayers.
The Rev. Dr. Best hesitated, looked his brother clergyman over and smiled. "I'll have to forfeit the race to you, Brother Ayers. I think your legs are in better condition than mine," he said.

—The Rev. Dr. Best had sons of the scores of telegrams and kisses of congratulation without the aid of glasses. He also told of various topics of the day with his calmness of whom recalled events of his fifty years in Methodist church pulpits and as a Sunday school class teacher until he was eighty.

POLES IN ULTIMATUM TO LET'S THREATEN FORCE

Berlin, Sept. 2 (I.N.S.).—An ultimatum demanding immediate release of three Poles arrested in Lithuania on charges of espionage has been delivered by the Lithuanian authorities to the Lithuanian general staff, said a Kovno dispatch to the newspaper B. Z. Am Mittag today. The Poles threatened to use "forceful measures" unless the Lithuanians released the captives within 48 hours.

SEA GUARDS HUNT CHINESE

FAIL TO FIND SMUGGLED ALIENS

A "tip" that aliens were aboard the Norwegian steamship Wayland proved false today when the vessel was searched here by immigration and customs officials.

Their search disclosed no sign of anybody not on the roll of Capt. John Johnson, skipper.

According to coast guardsmen, they received a "tip" that twenty-five Chinese that were on the dock at Havana when the Boston-bound sugar boat was loading, had disappeared when the vessel pulled out.

Today, two coast guard patrol boats met the Norwegian in the outer harbor and escorted her to her South Boston dock.

MAROOINED SHIP AND SUNSHINE REACH HUB

Fair weather and 400 passengers on storm delayed ships arrived at Boston together today. After breaking his way through the clouds piled up by the sudden offshore storm, Old Sol beamed upon New England as though he intended to stay a while. In fact, it was interrupted by experts that fine September weather is in the making.

The excursion steamer Dorothy Bradford, forced to remain at Provincetown with her 250 passengers all night because of the storm, made her return to Boston this morning.

The Eastern Steamship Company's City of Bangor, which put back into Portland with 200 more passengers, after battling the gale, arrived in Boston today. Other ships, some hours behind schedule time.

Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Fair tonight and Saturday; slightly warmer Saturday; moderate winds, mostly south or southwest.

Mauretania Escapes

Crash in Heavy Fog

New York, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Looming up out of the fog off Nantucket lightship yesterday, the Standard Oil tanker Broad Arrow nearly collided with the Cunard liner Mauretania, passengers said when the liner docked today. Captain E. G. Dingle, commander of the Mauretania, threw his helm to starboard and the tanker passed to the stern. The Mauretania was under reduced speed at the time, and Captain Dingle minimized the incident.

3 Barges With 2 Women and 4 Men Aboard Are Safe

Bridgeport, Ct., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Three of four barges, with four crew captains and two women aboard, which broke loose from a string of seven being towed from New York to Port Jefferson, L. I., were safely in port today, while the fourth was aground near Milford. Shortly after the barges broke away from the tug Eugenia Moran of the Moran Towing and Transportation Co., they were picked up by the Long Island Sound steamer City of Bridgeport.

AIR WEDDING IN SPRINGFIELD IF PASTOR AGREES

Springfield, Sept. 2 (I.N.S.).—The aviation craze—planes hop-off here and coming down there—hit Springfield so hard today that an aerial wedding was being arranged to feature an air pageant Monday.

Miss Velma E. Crotty, telephone operator, and Ralph F. Housman, factory clerk, asked Rev. Dr. Neil McPherson, of the First Congregational Church, to perform the ceremony in the clouds. Dr. McPherson, who has just been reading of the latest transatlantic races said he would think it over.

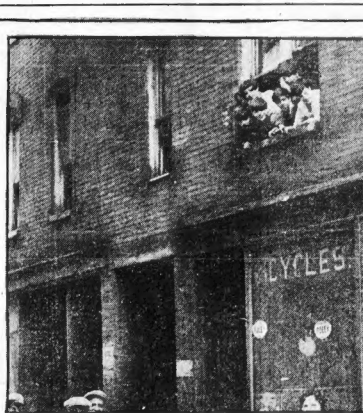

Miss Crotty and Housman will receive a petite of $20 and $1000 honeymoon trip by air as a wedding gift.

HOPES FOR PRINCESS' PLANE FADE AS TIME LOST IN FUEL IN TANKS IS PASSED

aid Mrs. Hamilton's high awaiting news of the plane, while newspaper columns were eagerly scanned. Anxiety for the safety of the plane increased with the passing hours. Late last night the Provincial Government said it was prepared to send airplanes immediately in search of the missing plane, on the first report indicating it may have descended anywhere between the Labrador and Quebec-Ontario boundaries. Captain Hamilton, who piloted the plane, was one of those ready to start on the hunt.

The conviction was general at Hamilton's camp that the plane had gone down, probably near one of the Grand Banks fishing fleet, unacquainted with radio. Another theory was that the plane may have come off its course and landed on some barren and unsettled part of the thousands of miles of wilderness in Newfoundland where means of communication were not available. The plane carried a four-day food supply.

Newfoundland Gives Up Vigil as Hopeless Now

St. John's, N. F., Sept. 2 (A.P.)—Newfoundland resumed today without any word from the plane St. Raphael. The crews which had gathered at Harbor Grace yesterday in hopes of seeing a princess and her companions fly over the aircraft meted away during the night when it was known that there was no longer a chance of their having enough gasoline left to reach this coast.

Relatives of Princess Alarmed for Her Safety

London, Sept. 2 (L.N.S.)—Fears that the monoplane St. Raphael met with disaster on its attempt to fly from England to Ottawa, Can., were today with the news that the plane had been sighted in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Members of the Princess's family, who vainly opposed her attempt for the safety of their dear king's woman, her brothers, the Earl of Merborough, and Hon. George Savile, and her sister, Lady Mary Louisa Savile, kept in constant touch with officials of the Imperial Airways, Ltd., in the hope that some word might be received indicating the plane had safely landed somewhere.

How Princess May Have Been Saved

London, Sept. 2 (A.P.)—Emphasizing what he felt was the slight hope for the survival of the Princess Lowenstein-Weidheim and her two companions in the monoplane St. Raphael, Lieut.-Commander Mackenzie-Grieve, who was with Harry Hawker when his plane dropped into the Atlantic in May of 1919, said today: "We owed our lives to the fact that through a momentary break in the clouds we saw a steamer beneath us, and were able to ram down close to it to be rescued."

hid out the greatest hopes that her plane was safe.

Sinson Bars Ocean Hops in Its Planes

Detroit, Sept. 2 (A.P.)—The Sinson Aircraft Corporation hereafter will not accept orders for planes in which "ocean" flights across the coast are to be attempted. Eddie Sinson, head of the company and himself a noted pilot, announced to day.

Sinson's company furnished the plane in which Paul Roffen, Brunswick, Ga., flier, attempted to fly to Rio de Janeiro, and also turned out the Royal Windsor and the Sir John Carling, in which flights are in progress from Windsor and London, Ont., to England. The Pride of Detroit, the plane of Schlemmer, a Brock in the round-the-world flight, also a Sinson-Detroit.

Sinson reiterated he had attempted to make a crossing to take a companion on his tropical flight. "It is asking too much of an airplane and to run continuously for 24 to 36 hours under adverse weather conditions," he said. "The success

GUARD RICH MAN AFTER SACCO THREAT

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Armed guards surround the Lake Forest home of Walter R. Kirk, millionaire soap manufacturer, following receipt of a threat of death before Saturday night unless he pays $100,000 to the writer of the note.

The threat letter was signed "a sympathizer of Sacco and Vanzetti."

The letter was turned over to post office inspectors by Mr. Kirk and the police were notified. Chicago police also are keeping an eye on the Kirk residence.

"I don't mind admitting that I am carrying a pistol," Mr. Kirk said. "And I have established a law and might guard at my home and have engaged a personal bodyguard to the Sunday police."

His First Art Was on Paving Block, His Last of Coolidge

San Francisco, Sept. 2 (U.S.S.).—Nowhere in Poland is a paving block that bears the first picture printed by Joseph Stalin. The latest picture hangs in the White House, a portrait of President Coolidge.

Stalin's portrait of President and Mrs. Coolidge have received high praise from art critics. "That is Coolidge, the real man," he said. "People do not know the real Coolidge. He is another Decker."

The famous painter of kings, emperors and statesmen is visiting in San Francisco. He told of humble beginnings, those early days in Poland when the bricks on the sidewalk and paving blocks were canvases for his artistic hand.

I drew only the eyes, the nose, the mouth," he said. "Always I liked best to paint. Some boys like to shoot, to play golf."

Walton in East Cambridge District Court today Judge Walton so characterized the game in imposing fine on Anthony Cucinotta of Dante avenue, Belmont, for promoting it. Eleven other men he fined $5 each for participating in the game.

Attorney St. Hoffman, for the defense, argued that ninepins is more of a nuisance than golf or any other Sunday game.

Mr. Teeling's first assignment in the Boston diocese was as curate at St. Vincent's Church, South Boston, where he remained two years. From South Boston he went to St. Patrick's Church, Lowell.

In 1918 he became pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Newburyport, remaining in that capacity for 12 years.

E. ARLE SANDE'S WIFE DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mr. and Mrs. T. Harry Carey of Cambridge, went to Johnson, N. J., to spend the Christmas holidays with her uncle, Samuel C. Hildreth, famous breeder and trainer of thoroughbred racing ponies.

It was there that the first met Earl Sande, dating as a jockey and with predictions freely circulating that he would shortly become America's premier jockey. The following Easter they met again at the same place.

She then completed her schooling at the Mount Ida School for Girls in Newton. Later she became a racing "star" and was a frequent spectator at Belmont Park, Saratoga Springs, and elsewhere, where her uncle's horses were in action.

And Sande, by this time, was not the racing throng that paid him tribute, time after time as he sent his flying mount home ahead of the field. His eyes were for the fluttering of a handkerchief, up on the stands.

In Sept. 1921, they were married at the rectory of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church in Long Island. Predictions that Sande would retire from the turf were overturned when Mrs. Sande became, more than ever, an ardent follower of her husband's profession.

In August, 1924, Sande was thrown from a horse on the Saratoga Springs track and for 10 weeks lay in a hospital while doctors fought to restore him to health. At the time it was feared his racing career was ended. Throughout this period his young wife was his constant companion and she, personally, undertook a large share of the work of nursing him.

WIFE BELIEVES REDFERN SAFE

Brunswick, Ga., Sept. 2 (A.P.)—Repeated disappointments in the wake of rumors concerning Paul Redfern, missing Georgia aviator, have failed to dim the hope of the populace here that he will be found alive within a few days.

Despite more than a week of silence since he hoped from this city, last Thursday noon, bound for Rio de Janeiro, the belief prevailed here that reports of an unidentified plane sighted in Venezuela indicated strongly the aviator reached the southern continent.

The latest disappointment came with official denial of a report from Paris, Brazil, that Redfern's plane had fallen near Amazon, on the Amazon, 300 miles west of Manaus, where the flier intended to drop flares indicating whether he would fly toward Rio or head toward Pernambuco.

Both Mrs. Redfern, wife of the missing pilot, and Dr. F. C. Redfern, his father, continued to express confidence that he was safe.

FOR THE RIDE-SELECT
One of the most popular and lively members of the club was the debutante fling during coming out year in the very midst of the social season. Belonging fully launched in the social scene, she followed such foreign travel to vary the social whirl and to leave it a very serious and satisfying interest in girl scouts. Both Miss Batchelder and Mrs. George L. Batchelder, her mother, are members of the movement here in town, and serve faithfully their post cause.

MISS BATCHELDER'S
slender height and brilliant complexion will set off satin and tulle and old lace most effectively. As the central figure in wedding pageantry, she will shine as one of the season's handsome brides. The interesting family connection suggesting pleasant possibilities for the attending group, includes Miss Louise Batchelder, Mrs. Uriel Haskell Crocker (Eleanor Batchelder) and Mrs. George L. Batchelder, Jr., the former Katherine Abbott, each as decorative as can be.

AS USUAL, THE MYOPIA
Horse Show on the holiday serves up a sparkling program. Not content with putting on twelve classes, ranging from junior jumpers to the hunt teams, the Myopia wind up the day with a polo match for good measure. Surely the Myopians should be able to stage an excellent horse show seeing that they have been doing this very thing for thirty years or so. The present show is the 21st, so states the entry list that Thomas J. Frothingham, director in chief, has just had completed.

THE ENTRIES REPRESENT
all those North Shore families that find life in the hunting country so exactly to their liking. The Charles F. Ayres have their horses entered. So have the Bayard Tuckermans, the John K. Howards, the Frederick Ayers, Mr. Tom W. Pierce, Harry Pratt McKean, Mrs. Francis P. Sears, Mrs. Paul Moore, Miss Anne Sortwell and Miss Elise Sortwell, Augustus F. Goodwin, Amory Coolidge, William Stuart Forbes and Neil Rice.

MRS. CHARLES W. TAINTOR of Topsfield comes out for the Kennelwood Cup. Miss Alice Thorndike has entered some of her many horses. Beatrice Patton, Jr., has entered Hailford for the Turner Hill Cup. The Augustus F. The handsome Gray Bee, famous Myopia hunter, is in several classes. Gray Bee is the mount James Appleton

BETTY ALDEN'S SOCIETY COMMENT

SINCE MISS DOROTHY
BATCHELDER has seen September 24 as the day when she and Richard Alline Morse will stand before the altar of St. John's Church, Beverly, to slight their troth, an important supplant is added to September's growing list. Miss Batchelder maintains that the wedding will be small and simple. But, however small a company is hidden and, however much simplicity surrounds the actual ceremonial, such an alliance cannot but take on large importance.

WEDDING PLANS ARE NOT yet complete. They're merely reached the stage of setting the day and choosing the church. St. John's in Beverly Farms is both fashionable and beautiful. Really of chapel-like proportions, what is lacking of ecclesiastical stateliness is made up in radiant color-sunlight, which, streaming down through its magnificent stained glass windows, paints a wedding party with rainbow color.

MISS BATCHELDER'S

ing, a morning contest. Teams of four horses are entered, and two children and at least one parent and preferably two, will appear together. Mrs. Pierce has a team entered. So has John K. Howard, the Tuckermans, the Frederick Ayers, Mrs. Paul Moore, the Alvin Sortwells and Harry Pratt McKean. Since the North Shore children are put in the saddle almost as soon as they come out of the perambulator, the youngsters, every one, ride like small centaurs. The "family class" should be one of the show's high lights.

THREATEN U. S. MOVIE STRIKE

Chicago, Sept. 2 (A.P.)—Prospects of seeing a movie in Chicago were as bright as the sun today as the lockout declared against union operators continued effective in all theatres of the Chicago Exhibitors' Association.

Union officials said they were planning a general strike against all theatres throughout the country affiliated in circuits or by ownership with the Chicago houses.

Two government commissioners conferred with both the exhibitors and the union leaders over arbitration of the differences.

when it comes to talking about flying machines.

In Canada the Canadian government will run a post box for one year to show that post can be used economically. Perhaps somebody in the Dakotas will find a way to use the "lighter" coal, which is far better than post, stored away in the Dakotas and elsewhere, hundreds of millions of tons of it. "Time is of the essence" as lawyers say. A Frenchman is going to harness the hot water of the tropical ocean.

Americans are already harnessed, and the British are planning to harness the power of the tide. Some somebody will harness the sun, and then the power problem will be settled for the next hundred million years or so.

Great Britain intends to protect ignorant investors against get rich quick schemes and other schemes. Peddling stocks from door to door is to be stopped, selling stocks through the mail restricted and watched. The oil, real estate, and mining schemes, that rap inventors in this country would not be possible in Great Britain.

A stock broker whose wife would $10,000 a year alimony while waiting for a divorce, complained that the lady bought twenty-eight pairs of shoes in three days, averaging more than $15 a pair. He made over $50,000 in stocks in one year and $500,000 the next. His wife, aged forty-three, paid $350 for a hand bag. All this shows that we are living in prosperous times.

A prominent citizen of New York wants the citizens and the city combined to wipe out the slums by tearing down dark, cold, useless tenements. He would raise a fund of $500,000, half to be contributed by 500 rich men and half by the city. The idea is good.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company set the example, and Mr. Stabler, financial manager of that company, has shown that it is possible to provide comfortable rooms for $9 a month each while making your money earn 8 per cent. John A. Rockefeller, Jr., is also building houses admirably planned, with all conveniences on a magnificent scale, for low rents. If that idea spreads the slums will disappear as the old-fashioned cabs disappeared when the taxis came in.

Bite yourself an Alphabet

Isn't it better to be a Pretzeleer?

"Mama, see the funny man. What's he in there for?"
"Why Willie, he is a cu-ri-os-i-ty."
"Mama, what's a cu-ri-os-i-ty?"
"A cu-ri-os-i-ty, Willie, is a person who doesn't like pretzels."
And breaking out a paper bag of O-So-Guds mama began to bite and Willie to nibble and soon they had spelled for the man.

O-SO-GUD

That's an eating word if there ever was one, for it's the name of those crispy, crunchy, salty, twisty Unedda Bakers' pretzels that everyone but a cu-ri-os-i-ty likes so well.

They're good with cooliced drinks. With soup, with salad, with dessert. They're good on picnics and between meals and at parties. They're good for children. Easy to digest.

Unedda Bakers bake them. Grocers in every neighborhood sell them.

O-SO-GUD PRETZELS

O-So-Guds are brown, crisp and salty. They bite with a nice crackle, and they have a taste that's like nothing in the world but an O-So-Gud pretzel. Sold by the pound.

SLIM JIM
A handy companion for a walk is a box of Slim Jim Pretzel Sticks. They are good, cheerful eating.

DAVIS CUP STARS BEAT NILES AND WASHBURN AT LONGWOOD, 6-6, 6-2, 6-4

By STEPHEN CHANDLER.

The quarter final round of the national doubles championship got off to a delayed start at Longwood today, the program having been pushed forward from yesterday by the unexpected assault of bad weather.

The turf was very heavy and upon court 2 it was so bad that play was impossible. The match, in reference, was divided between court 1, by the Davis, and championship court 1.

The first engagement of the day, between Edson and Hunter, Niles and Washburn, took place upon court 1. It was a hard-fought battle, with the Davis pair showing more character than their opponents. Niles and Washburn appeared to be playing better than they had in the past, but the Davis pair, with their usual accuracy, won the match.

TILDES TEAM WINS.

The second match started in the same manner. Niles and Washburn, who had won the first match, were again defeated by the Davis pair. The Davis pair, with their usual accuracy, won the match.

After a short rest, the Davis pair again defeated Niles and Washburn. The Davis pair, with their usual accuracy, won the match.

FRENCH STARS PLAY.

The second match of the afternoon was played on court 1, between the champions of France, Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, and the Davis Cup champions, John Doherty and George Hennessey.

The French pair, with their usual accuracy, won the match. The Davis pair, with their usual accuracy, won the match.

Mysterious Billy Smith Broke and Dying One of Ring's Best Won Welter Crown

By NICK FLETLEY

MYSTERIOUS BILLY SMITH HERO OF LOST AGE

MYSTERIOUS Billy Smith, dying on in Oregon, recalls the old days of ring glory, when Boston was the boxing capital and fighters were real warriors and not shrewd business men. Mysterious Billy was one of the greatest of them all, in an age when a prelin box was tougher than most modern champs and a title owner was glad to defend his crown two or three times a week, if he could get the action.

Billy Smith began one of the ring's most picturesque careers right here in Boston. He came down from Eastport, Maine, and found a job in a Chardon street stable. He liked it, and picked up a few dollars in the battles, the boxes were staged in the loft and little hall that were the clubrooms of those wild days.

He drifted out into the West, when his prowess made him feared in this part of the world. For a year or two his friends had nothing of him. Then reports began to trickle in about the ring victories of Billy Smith of Boston. Nobody in these parts knew who the fighter was, and Captain Cook, editor of the Police News, dubbed him Mysterious Billy. Smith's name stuck all through a brilliant ring life.

Captain Cook and his Police News were Boston institutions that pink pamphlet, the ancestor of the modern tabloid, was printed in Alder Court, down back of Court street. It was the headquarters of the country. The champions all marched down the dark little alley to see the captain. Title matches were arranged there.

In the small office of the editor, John L. Sullivan signed to box Tiger Jackson. The fight was never held, but the old timers all know that the Strong Boy agreed to take on the negro negro. That's why they grin when modern experts talk about glorious old John drawing the color line.

BATTLE WITH WALCOTT BOSTON'S GREATEST

MISTERY BILLY SMITH made himself nationally famous in September, 1897, when he defeated Blaise Maher of Australia in Portland, Oregon, and thereby was recognized as welterweight champion of the world. The boys fought 35 rounds for that title, and the winner's share of the purse was $10,000. A modern champ wouldn't sign articles for five times that much.

Smith moved down all the welters, and up on beef. Then he went into the middleweight class. His battles there made him famous. He won 18 rounds to a draw with Tommy Ryan at Coney Island in '95, in which is known as the ring's bloodiest battle. Smith was knocked out in the eighth round when the fight was in the eighth round.

There was a rumble, but it was quieted down, and the war went on. Ryan was in the 11th when the gentleman made another heroism. That one was fought out and the boys staggered and snatched until the 18th. Then with a new riot in the air, referee Tim Hurst called it off.

The war between Smith and Walcott, in old Boston Hall here in Boston that came year was another clash, for good and all. It was another draw, after fifteen incarnations of rounds. Smith was accused of being violent in that skirmish, but vigorously denied it, saying that the fight was on Friday, he would not be guilty of eating meat that day. He actually pulled that new well worn wheeze.

VETERANS NEVER GAVE PURSES ANY THOUGHT

BILLY SMITH, like all those old gladiators, fought for the love of it. He never made any difference in his life. One of his toughest fights was staged on Haver street, a rough and tumble affair with Dick O'Brien, who was a great middleweight fighter. The boys had been great friends, but bumped into each other, an argument started, and away they went.

Braves Re-Purchase Providence Grays

Providence, Sept. 2 (A.P.)—Judge Emil Fuchs, president of the Boston National League baseball club, announced today the purchase of the Providence Grays.

Fuchs said he would take control of the local team at once. He intends to use the club as a "farm" for the Braves.

The Braves formerly owned the local team, but disposed of it last winter when Albert E. Powell quit the club. Fuchs said he was interested in Providence this spring after a poor start by the Grays.

Postpone Opening Polo Match to Sept. 10

New York, Sept. 2.—The first of the international polo matches between the English and United States four scheduled for next Monday, has been postponed till Saturday, September 10, the United States Polo Assn. has announced.

The postponement was decided by the polo association's executive committee, when the captain of the two rival teams, after a stormy meeting, decided that the match should be postponed, on the grounds that the weather was so bad that it was impossible to play. The match was to be played on Monday, but the conditions were so bad that it was impossible to play. The match was to be played on Monday, but the conditions were so bad that it was impossible to play.

No date for the second match of the series has been set, the polo association stating that this would be decided at the close of the first match. The original date of the first match was the 10th of September, but it was postponed to the 17th of September.

Apparently fair if the field is dry and the visiting team approaching action either the form it has shown in India or the very top pitch of play it has put on once or twice in this country.

Unless there is a change at the last moment, the match will go into action on Saturday, September 10, at 10 o'clock, at the Polo Grounds, New York.

In many of their games the English officers of the Indian service played in the middle of the field, while the American players took places in the various "tacking for" positions and long and accurate hitting.

Arthur Flynn of Lawrence, Mass., is the only American player who has been selected to play in the match. He is a right-handed player and is known for his powerful hitting.
